About Us

Lauren Engineers & Constructors is an experienced EPC contractor providing engineering, construction, and fabrication services to power, chemical, polymer, petrochemical and refining customers.

Lauren is a recognized leader in these industries and has come to be known as the contractor of choice in the polymers industry. We are continually focused on innovation and efficiency to provide value-added solutions that go above and beyond our customer's expectations.

At Lauren, we believe that our success is dependent upon a commitment to people. Therefore, we maintain this commitment as a core value in everything that we do. We understand the fundamental importance of relationships and are committed to building lasting relationships with our customers and employees.

To build these relationships, we maintain a continual focus on our four cornerstone commitments:

- Integrity
- Safety
- Quality
- Performance

With a focus on the future, we must meet new challenges with new solutions. Yet, our cornerstone commitments and mission will remain the same. We will continue to focus on exceeding customer's expectations, both in the services that we offer and the relationships that we form.

"Through careful and probing listening, we make every effort to understand our customer's needs. By this, we hope to know the customer's business as well, or better, than the customer."
